To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write a reference for Drew Tarvin's improvisation workshop. I have had the opportunity to attend a number of workshops led by Drew on the topic of improvisation, and I highly recommend them without reservation.

In every session, Drew has been professional, organized and committed to teaching key lessons while having fun. As a lawyer at a large corporate law firm in New York, Drew's classes have helped me both personally and professionally.

Drew is able to create an environment where all attendees are not just willing but enthusiastic participants. By making a point to debrief each exercise or game to explain its relevance and how the skills can be applied outside of the classroom, he is able to make an exercise both fun and extremely rewarding.

Moreover, Drew applies his own knowledge of the business world in a way that makes sense and is easily applicable to my own professional life as a lawyer. I have used the skills Drew taught me in a variety of aspects of my career, from general confidence in meetings, strategy sessions and client interviews, to more specific applications such as improving my skills in taking depositions, making oral arguments and trial technique, including direct and cross examination of witnesses.

I definitely recommend Drew as a facilitator and instructor. If he can help a lawyer like me find the value improvisation, he can help anyone. Should you want to discuss my recommendation any further, please don't hesitate to contact me at 212-455-7642.

Very truly yours,
